Rainbow Refugees: Queering Grief Across Borders

Rhiannon Makohoniuk

Co-Executive Director
Rainbow Refugee Association of Nova Scotia

Rhiannon is a white, Canadian-born settler and queer trans woman. She has been working with 2SLGBTQIA+ communities for 15 years and with newcomer communities for almost 10 years.

She graduated from Dalhousie University with a B.A. in Psychology and Gender & Women's Studies (2014) and a Bachelor of Social Work (2016). She is one of the Co-Executive Directors of Rainbow Refugee Association of Nova Scotia.

Rhiannon believes in the power of community and possibility, and loves swimming and the ocean.

She currently works at Gaelic Affairs as the Gaelic Community Outreach & Engagement Officer.
