

Creative Approaches to Supporting Pregnancy and Infant Losses

---

Linden Hardie

Social Worker | Bereavement Coordinator, IWK Health Centre

Linden Hardie (she/her) has been practicing in Nova Scotia as a social worker for 15 years. After starting her career with Adsum for Women and Children, Linden joined the team at Hospice Halifax to open Nova Scotia's first hospice residence.

She helped develop the social worker position and expand free bereavement support services for the greater community.

After a few summers volunteering with Brigadoon Village's Camp Solace (bereavement camp for kids), Linden joined the Pediatric Advance Care Team with the IWK Health Centre as the Bereavement Coordinator. In this role, she provides bereavement support services across the Maritimes to patients, families, and the greater community.